

Privacy Policy

POD

POD recognizes that people who use our products value their privacy. This Privacy Policy details important information regarding the collection, use and disclosure of User information collected on the POD website located at <https://podd.io> (the Site). POD provides this Privacy Policy to help you understand how your personal information is used by us and your choices regarding our use of it. By using the Service, you agree that we can collect, use, disclose, and process your information as described in this Privacy Policy. This Privacy Policy only applies to the Service, and not to any other websites, products or services you may be able to access or link to via the Service. We encourage you to read the privacy policies of any other websites you visit before providing your information to them. While our values will not shift, the Service will evolve over time, and this Privacy Policy will change to reflect that evolution. If we make changes, we will notify you by revising the date at the top of this Privacy Policy. In some cases, if we make significant changes, we may give you additional notice by adding a statement to our homepage. We encourage you to review this Privacy Policy periodically to stay informed about our practices.

Some third-party providers may place cookies or pixels - small data files stored on your hard drive or in device memory - on your browser or hard drive. Note that this Privacy Policy does not cover the use of cookies or pixels by such third parties. Most web browsers are set to accept cookies and pixels by default, but you can usually set your browser to remove or reject browser cookies or pixels. If you do choose to remove or reject cookies or pixels, however, your ability to use the Service might be affected. This Privacy Policy should be read in conjunction with our Terms of Use. By accessing the Service, you are consenting to the information collection and use practices described in this Privacy Policy.

Your use of the Service and any personal information you provide through the Service remains subject to the terms of this Privacy Policy and our Terms of Use, as each may be updated from time to time.

Any questions, comments or complaints that you might have should be emailed to marketing@poddb.io.

1 HOW WE USE OUR DATA

When you register an account with us:

- We will use your personal information to process your registration and to carry out our obligations arising from any agreements entered into between you and us.
- Information about you that we collect from you may include, your name, age, e-mail location, cryptocurrency wallet public address.
- We may also share your personal information with our affiliates, and selected third parties including business partners, suppliers and subcontractors for the performance of any contract we enter into with them or you.

Where you have expressed an interest in receiving communications from us:

- This section applies if you have opted in to receive communications regarding our project from us, including your participation in our activities or events.
- We will handle your personal information (such as your name and email address) to provide you with communications regarding our project.
- When we send you emails regarding our project because you have opted-in to receive them, we rely on your consent to contact you.
- Every email we send to you regarding our project will also contain instructions on how to unsubscribe from receiving them.
- You can tell us that you do not want your personal information to be processed in this way at any time by contacting us at the Contact Information set out below or, where relevant, by following the unsubscribe link shown in every email you receive from us.

To make our experience better:

- We share your aggregated, anonymous data with third party analytics providers that assist us in the improvement and optimisation of our product.

- We will also use your personal information for the purposes of making our app more secure, and to administer our app and for internal operations, including troubleshooting, data analysis, testing, research, statistical and survey purposes.
- We process your data for this reason because we have a legitimate interest to provide you with the best experience we can, and to ensure that our site is kept secure.

If our company is sold:

- We will transfer your personal information to a third party in the event that (i) we sell or buy any business or assets, in which case we will disclose your personal data to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets and/or (ii) if the Company or substantially all of its assets are acquired by a third party, in which case personal data held by it about its customers will be part of the assets transferred to such third party.
- We process your personal information for this purpose because we have a legitimate interest to ensure our business can be continued by the buyer. If you object to our use of your personal information in this way, the relevant seller or buyer of our business may not be able to provide services to you.

In order to comply with any legal obligation:

- In some circumstances we may also need to share your personal information if we are under a duty to disclose or share it to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply our Terms of Use or other agreements; or to protect the rights, property, or safety of the Company, our customers, or others. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organisations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

2 WHERE WE STORE YOUR PERSONAL DATA

We engage commercial cloud storage providers to store the data that we collect from you. Therefore, your data may be transferred to and stored in different jurisdictions and may also be processed by staff operating within the various countries who work for us or for one of our contractors. By submitting your personal data, you agree to this transfer, storing or processing. We will take commercially reasonable steps to ensure that your data is handled securely and in accordance with this privacy policy and the relevant privacy laws.

Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password which enables you to access certain parts of our site, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share the password with anyone. Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to our site; any transmission is at your own risk. Once we have received your information, we will take all commercially reasonable efforts to prevent unauthorized access.

3 HOW LONG DO WE RETAIN YOUR DATA FOR

We will only retain your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any accounting or legal requirements. To determine the appropriate retention period for the personal information we hold, we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the personal information, the risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal information, the reasons why we handle your personal information and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

In some circumstances, we may anonymise your personal data so that it can no longer be associated with you for research or statistical purposes, in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you.

4 YOUR RIGHTS

You have various rights under the data protection laws, which you can exercise by contacting us. The easiest way to do this is by email at the Contact Information set out below.

Right to object. You have the right to object to us handling your personal information when we are handling your personal information based on our legitimate interests (as described in the “How we use your data” section above). If you ask us to stop handling your personal information in this way, we will stop unless we can show you that we have compelling grounds as to why our use of your personal information should continue; or for marketing purposes. If you ask us to stop handling your personal information on this basis, we will stop.

Right of access. You have the right to access your personal information which we are handling, and to receive confirmation as to whether your personal information is being processed by us, as well as various other information relating to our use of your personal information.

Right to rectification. You have the right to require us to rectify any inaccurate personal information we hold about you. You also have the right to have incomplete personal information we hold about you completed, by providing a supplementary statement to us.

Right to restriction. You can restrict our processing of your personal information where you think we hold inaccurate personal information about you; our handling of your personal information breaks the law, but you do not want us to delete it; we no longer need to process your personal information, but you want us to keep it for legal reasons; or where we are handling your personal information because we have a legitimate interest (as described in the “How we use your data” section above, and are in the process of objecting to this use of your personal information. Where you exercise your right to restrict us from using your personal information, we will then only process your personal information when you agree, except for storage purposes and to handle legal claims. We will inform you before any restriction of processing is lifted.

Right to data portability. You have the right to receive your personal information in a structured, standard machine readable format and to send this to another organisation controlling your personal information. This right only applies to your personal information we are handling because you consented to us using it or because there is a contract in place between us.

Right to erasure. You have the right to require us to erase your personal information which we are handling in the following circumstances where we no longer need to use your personal information for the reasons we told you we collected it for; where we needed your consent to use your personal information, you have withdrawn your consent and there is no other lawful way we can continue to use your personal information; when you object to our use of your personal information and we have no compelling reason to carry on handling it; if our handling of your personal information has broken the law; and when we must erase your personal information to comply with a law we are subject to.

5 COOKIES

Our Site uses Cookies, which are text files placed on your computer which help POD analyze how users use the Site, and similar technologies (e.g. web beacons, pixels, ad tags and device identifiers) to recognise you and/or your device on, off and across different devices and our Site, as well as to improve the Site, to improve marketing, analytics or functionality. The use of Cookies is standard on the internet. Although most web browsers automatically accept cookies, the decision of whether to accept or not is yours. You may adjust your browser settings to prevent the use of cookies, or to provide notification whenever a cookie is sent to you. You may refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser. However, please note that if you do this, you may not be able to access the full functionality of our Site.

6 INFORMATION WE DON'T COLLECT

We do not collect any other personally-identifiable information about you, unless you give it to us directly: by filling out a form, giving us written feedback, communicating with us via third party social media sites, or otherwise communicating with us via the Site, or any other means.

7 INFORMATION SECURITY

Whilst neither we, nor any other organization, can guarantee the security of information processed online, we do have appropriate security measures in place to protect your personal information. For example, we store the personal information you provide on computer systems with limited access, encryption, or both.

8 PRIVACY RIGHTS

Subject to applicable law, you may have some or all of the following rights in respect of your personal information:

1. to obtain a copy of your personal information together with information about how and on what basis that personal information is processed;
2. to rectify inaccurate personal information (including the right to have incomplete personal information completed);
3. to erase your personal information (in limited circumstances, where it is no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which it was collected or processed);
4. to restrict processing of your personal information where:
 - (a) the accuracy of the personal information is contested;
 - (b) the processing is unlawful but you object to the erasure of the personal information; or
 - (c) we no longer require the personal information but it is still required for the establishment, exercise or defense of a legal claim;
5. to challenge processing which we have justified on the basis of a legitimate interest (as opposed to your consent, or to perform a contract with you);
6. to prevent us from sending you direct marketing;
7. to withdraw your consent to our processing of your personal information (where that processing is based on your consent);

8. to object to decisions which are based solely on automated processing or profiling;
9. in addition to the above, you have the right to file a complaint with the supervisory authority.

9 CHANGES AND UPDATES

We reserve the right to amend this privacy policy at any time. Any changes we make to our privacy policy in the future will be posted on this page and, where appropriate, notified to you by email. You agree that it is your responsibility to check periodically for any updates or changes to our privacy policy.
